What makes BSc(I&T) unique?

Rethink Science & Technology Education

The new STEM programme prepares students for a world where technology, creativity and innovation come together. Develop the skills to think across disciplines, tackle real-world challenges, and turn ideas into meaningful solutions.

Solve problems you CARE about

At I-School, you learn by doing. Our project-led BSc(I&T) curriculum helps you turn real-world challenges into opportunities, develop practical problem-solving skills, and explore flexible pathways across technology and innovation.
